

Biography: Aaron Kitchen

My name is Aaron Kitchen. I am originally from Seattle, Washington. I am pursuing a degree in Mechanical Engineering with a minor in material science and writing. My experience in 3D modeling allowed me to receive two summer internships at The Boeing Company, where I worked as a manufacturing engineer for the Wind Tunnel and Flight Test programs. In my spare time I enjoy writing and baking. I look forward to returning to work for Boeing after I graduate in May 2014.
