

Design Iteration 4-22-2015

Features:

- A) The closed cell neoprene foam worked like a charm. The addition of thread inserts necessitated a single change, making the thread holes .25 inches in diameter. They are being press-fit by using a sauntering iron to heat the aluminum inserts until they soften and melt the surrounding plastic. Works great!

